SILVER CLEANER

To clean your silver. Mix one-half cup of salt and three-fourths cup of soapflakes with sufficient cold water to cover the silverware laid in an aluminum pan. Bring to a boil, then wash the silver in hot soapy water. CAUTION: Do not use on filigreed silver. Solution may remove the oxidation in the intricate designs and it will take some time for them to darken again.

Please distinguish between the black letter "O" and the red numeral "0" (Zero) when dialing. Be sure to bring your finger all the way around to the finger stop for each letter or digit and then release the dial without forcing or retarding its return.

FRONT COVER STORY

To commemorate Fort Macleod's Centennial year 1974, our cover is a series of prints depicting North West Mounted Police activities in Fort Macleod, 1874. These artists' concepts show Assistant Commissioner Col. James Macleod and Scout Jerry Potts in the exercise of their duty.

The N.W.M.P. were organized in 1873 by Act of Parliament. Assistant Commissioner Col. James Macleod and three troops came to Alberta to establish security for Settlers and Indians in the vast Indian battleground and buffalo pasture. Col. Macleod engaged Jerry Potts, Scotsman and Peigan Indian, as guide and interpreter. Jerry selected a site on the Oldman River which was reached October 13, 1874. It was named Fort Macleod in honor of Col. Macleod.

War on the whiskey smugglers and establishment of law and order began immediately. Jerry Potts, with the Force for 22 years, provided invaluable help with his interpretation of dialects and his reputation for fair and honest dealings. Col. Macleod obtained respect from the Indians and Settlers through his tact, dignity and bold, aggressive leadership.

About the artist. Neil Boyle, son of Mrs. Boyle and the late D. A. Boyle grew up in Fort Macleod. He attended the Banff School of Fine Arts as well as leading art institutes in the U.S.A. An eminently successful artist, Mr. Boyle completed the North West Mounted Police originals in 1954. Prints are available from the N.W.M. Police Museum, P.O. Box 776, Fort Macleod.
