4 GOOD REASONS FOR HANDLING COMPLAINTS BY LONG DISTANCE

You can talk over matters at once. Promptness often prevents loss of a customer.

You can build closer relations with customers.

You can use tact in delicate situations. And because people talk more freely than they write, you can frequently trace the real reason for the complaint and prevent similar complaints in the future.

4 GOOD REASONS FOR HANDLING COMPLAINTS BY LONG DISTANCE

You can talk over matters at once. Promptness often prevents loss of a customer. You can build closer relations with customers. You can use tact in delicate situations. And because people talk more freely than they write, you can frequently trace the real reason for the complaint and prevent similar complaints in the future.

AGT SALUTES ALBERTA'S FIRST BICENTENNIALS FORT CHIPEWYAN 1788 - 1988 FORT VERMILION

FORT CHIPEWYAN

In 1778 Peter Pond crossed the Methy (La Loche) Portage, the first white man to enter the Athabasca-Peace River-Mackenzie basin. He established a trading post, 'Pond's House', at the head of the Athabasca Delta. In 1788, The North West Company moved to the shore of Lake Athabasca where Roderick Mackenzie established the 'Fort Chipewyan' trading post.

From Fort Chipewyan, Alexander Mackenzie, in search of fresh-water passage to the Pacific, explored the Mackenzie River to the Arctic (1789), and the Peace River, and over the Rockies, to the Pacific (1793). Soon, Fort Chipewyan became a major centre for the fur trade due to the abundance of rich-quality furs cropped in the Athabasca-Peace River delta, due also to its geographic position at the junction of the Athabasca, Peace, Slave-Mackenzie rivers.

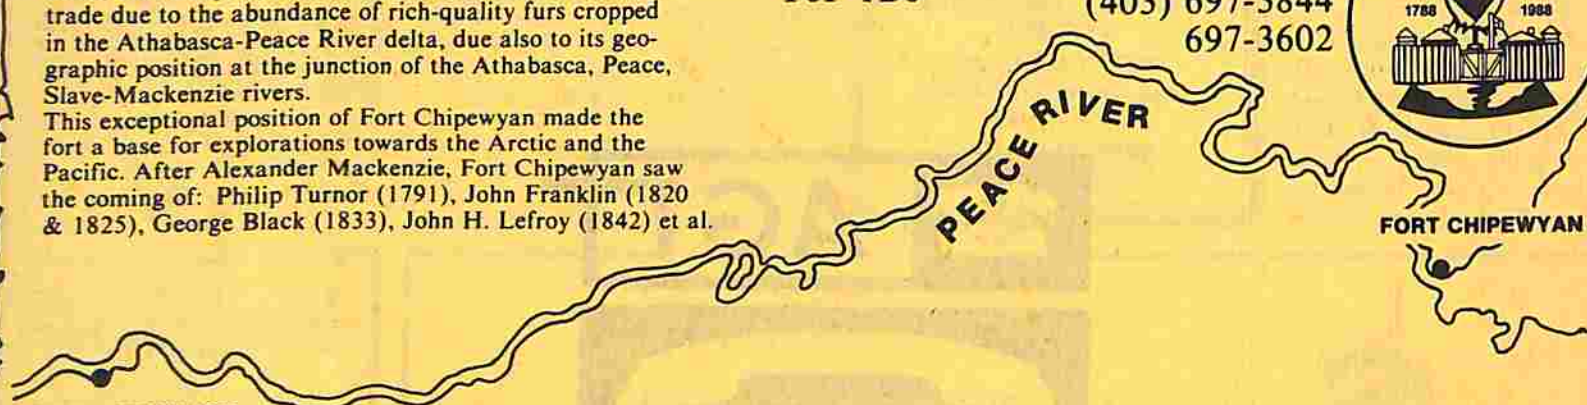

This exceptional position of Fort Chipewyan made the fort a base for explorations towards the Arctic and the Pacific. After Alexander Mackenzie, Fort Chipewyan saw the coming of: Philip Turnor (1791), John Franklin (1820 & 1825), George Black (1833), John H. Lefroy (1842) et al.

Major events in Fort Chipewyan during the year-long Celebrations:

FORT VERMILION

Fort Vermilion

In 1788, Charles Boyer of the North West Company travelled up the Peace River, entering the lands of the Beaver and Cree Indians. Five miles downstream from today's Fort Vermilion, he built the 'Old Establishment' provisions post and planted a garden.

In 1789, C. Vaudrieul surveyed the Peace up to Boyer's post. In 1792, Alexander Mackenzie recorded Vaudrieul's survey and details of the garden and post site when he passed by en route to the Pacific Ocean.

From 1788, one post or another was occupied continuously within 100 miles of Fort Vermilion. The North West and Hudson's Bay companies competed fiercely for all the furs and foodstuffs the native people could supply.

In 1821, the two rivals united as the Hudson's Bay Company, and since 1828, Fort Vermilion at its present site has continued as an important fur trading centre.

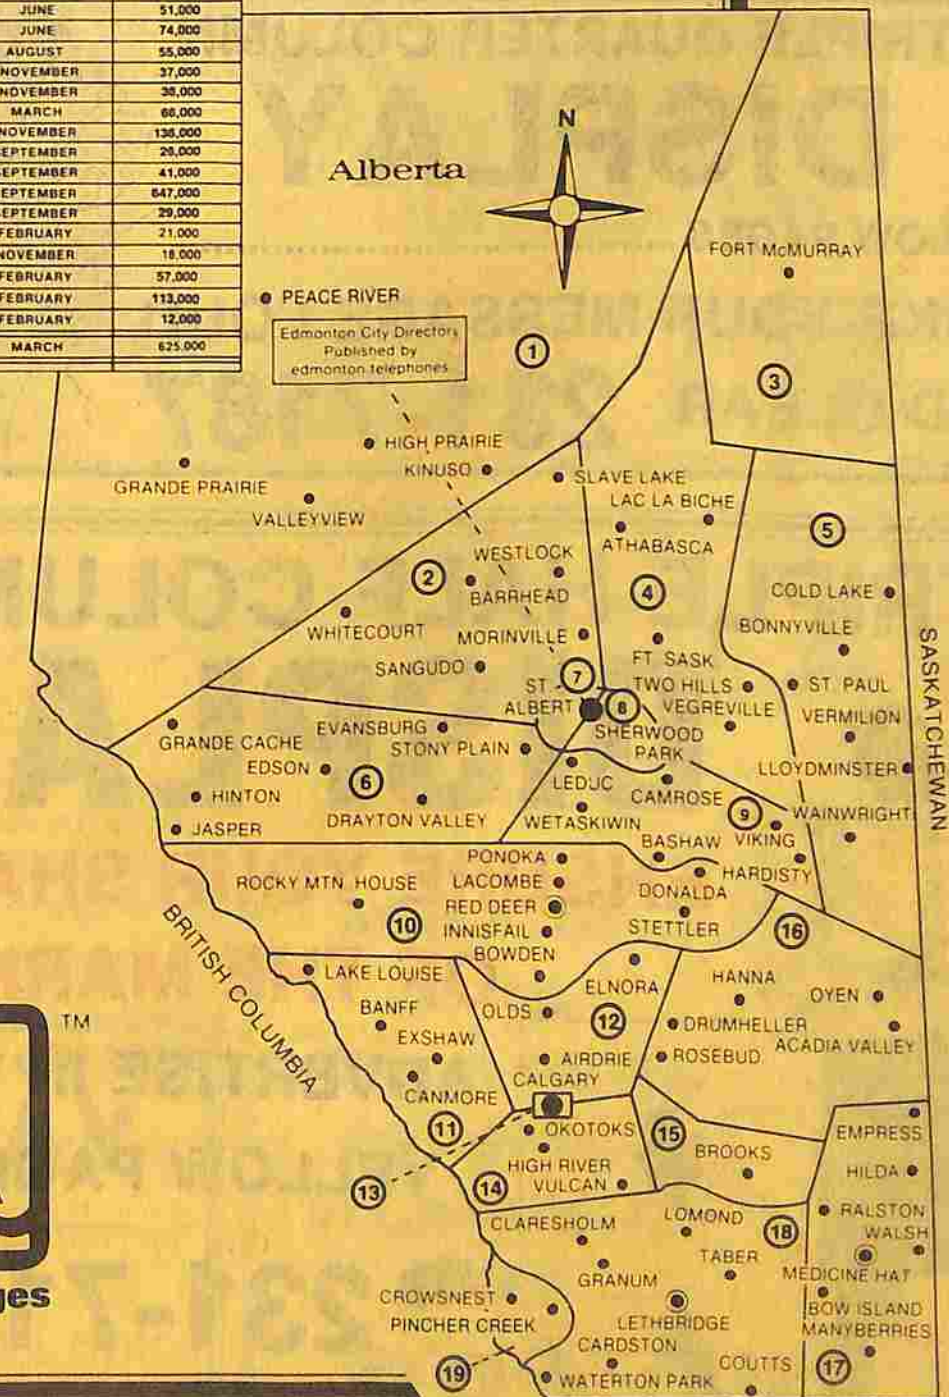

Major events in the year-long Fort Vermilion and District Bicentennial Celebrations include
